HYPERION.

C. B. Jefferson, Klaw & Erlanger' mammoth spectacular production of "Palmer Cox's Brownies," is so bewil dering and unique that one can see it again and again, and each time find ar added charm in the wonderful perform ance. There were many in New Haven last spring who witnessed it three or four times, and, to judge from the way seats are selling for the limited en-gagement of "The Brownies" at the Hyperion, Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights of this week, with a matinee Saturday, they desire to see it again. The free list has been absolutely suspended. He has fixed the prices on the scale of $1 for the best seats. Many delightful changes and surprises will greet the big audience sure to gree the return of "The Brownies," New Haven's firmly-established fayorites, when the curtain is run up on the opening have the only complete line of tuming, and the cast will be in the will be augmented by large crowds from at the Hyperion Thursday night. of seats now open.

Joe Ott made his first appearance as star last evening in "The Star Gazer," and made a decided hit. The piece is filled with up to date specialties, introduring the entire company. There is but a thread of a plot, but the songs and dances which are introduced through the piece are both pleasing and numerous and keep the audience in a road of laughter. One of the many features of the comedy is the remarkable makeup of Phil Ott as the professor's double in the third act, and the situation is worked up in consequence to the delight of the audience. Joe Ott, as the solemn astronomer who sees stars, made a decided hit, and his every appearance before the audience was the occasion for an outburst of applause. Mat Carroll also shared honors with the star, and made a deided success. Dan Mack, an old time favorite, was also well received. The beatuiful voice of Mies Dorothy Grey was heard to great advantage. nany pleasing specialties of Miss Blanche Awkwright were received with a storm of applause. Miss Jordan's singing and dancing were also well received. Others deserving of special mention are Miss Leah DeGroot, Miss Winifred Temple, Miss Maud Babley, Tom Cook, Berrand Bedell, Phil Ott, Joe Harrington, and J. B. Watkins, "The Star Gazer" will be repeated this and to-morrow evenings and at a Wednesday matinee. Prices at matinee, 100

Great Brooklyn Handicap, which will be seen at the Grand Opera house Thursday next, matinee and evening, is one of the worthlest theatrical offerings of its kind that have been made known to the American play-going community since the racing drama came into vogue. It has an up to-date and well treated theme, liter ary sprightliness, dramatic interest, ad-mirable scenic embellishment, and lively action. It is a remarkable and telling quality of this play that the last act is the strongest. "The White Squadron" will be seen Friday and Saturday evenings. The scenic beauties of "The White Squadron" are admired by the lovers of this time. class of play. The story tells of the gathering of the war-ships of the sev-eral nations, which gives ample opportunity for stage effects and in con junction with the work of the dramat- Way. ist is also occasion for many thrilling situations.

POLI'S WONDERLAND THEATER. Immense crowds visited Poli's Wonderland theater yesterday afternoon and evening and enjoyed the splendid performance given. Odell and Page, the European sensational silence and fun men, made a highly pleasing impression with their always thrilling and sometimes amazing acrobation The Lucifers likewise made hings hum with their athletic novelty. Mr. Lucifer did some extraordinary high jumping, and it was said on his behalf last night that he is willing to meet any of the high jumpers in the Cambridge or Yale teams either in rivate or public competition, on or off the stage, any afternoon or evening during the week. Brennan and Daly presented a very clever caricature of Dr. Parkhurst and Theodore Roosevelt, showing a very amusing picture of political and moral reform in New York. Mazziota, the Clemenso brothers, comedy trio, Miss Kitty Proctor and Davis, Whitman and Davis nobly did their part. Performances every afternoon and evening; ladies admitted to

BOX 14 STRUCK.

Lace Curtains Caught Fire Last Evening Shortly before 6 o'clock last evening an alarm of fire was rung in from box 14, located at Davenport avenue and Ward streets. The fire was in the house 65 Asylum street, occupied by Daniel Ackley, and was caused by some lace curtains becoming ignited from a gas jet. The flames were promptly extinguished by Mrs. Ackley before the arrival of the department. The curtains were completely destroyed, and the door badly scorched. The damage will amount to about $15.

Stole His Friend's Shoes.

Vincent M. Baldwin, a clam peddler was arrested last evening and locked up charged with theft. Early yesterday morning he was around peddling his dams as usual, and at the corner of Wooster and Olive streets met William H. Tobin, with whom he was acquainted. He told Tobin that he owed the saloon keeper at that place a bill and consequently did not want to go i and try to sell some clams, and asked Tobin to sell the clams for him. The latter had a pair of shoes in his hands which he gave to Baldwin to hold fo him while he went into the saloon. When he came out shoes, Baldwin and clams were nowhere to be seen. Tobin thereupon secured a warrant for Baldwin's arrest, which resulted in his spending the night in the lockup.
